

PRODUCE EXPORTS ARE FINE

JANUARY, 1911, RECORD HAS BEEN BEATEN ONLY TWICE.

Last Year Conditions Were Reversed and the Balance of Trade Was Against U. S. Cotton, Breadstuffs and Mineral Oil Shows the Heaviest Export Figures.

The Government gave out yesterday its figures of the country's exports of agricultural products in a report which was received as one of the most encouraging signs of the growing strength of this country's trade position, that have appeared for many months. The gratifying increase therein recorded for our export trade is more than ordinarily significant because of its contrast with conditions a year ago. In January, 1910, exports decreased and imports increased, the end of that year marking a turning point in the balance of trade after a fall season in which business and export business had been satisfactory, as is usual at that time of the year. The report for January, 1911, shows the rise of a tendency exactly the opposite. There has been a revival in our exports of agricultural products. In a few days the figures of the country's total exports and import trade for January will be made public. It is expected that those more complete statistics of the trade situation will arouse even more optimism than yesterday's report.

The total value of the January exports was $108,132,000, a record which has been surpassed only twice in the first month of the calendar year of 1911 and 1908. The decrease from December was no more than is usual at the year end. The value of January's shipments stood $11,710,000 higher than the corresponding month a year ago. The increase was due to a large increase in cotton exports, which, although less in volume than in January, 1909, 1908, or 1907, had a value greater than ever before in the history of the month of January. It surpassed January, 1910, by nearly $4,000,000, and the record January figure of $7,374,000.

Breadstuffs and mineral products increased almost as noticeably as that of cotton. January cotton exports this year have been 9,750,000 bushels, against 6,000,000 a year ago. The increase was due to a large increase in cotton exports, which, although less in volume than in January, 1909, 1908, or 1907, had a value greater than ever before in the history of the month of January. It surpassed January, 1910, by nearly $4,000,000, and the record January figure of $7,374,000.

STATE BANKERS AT DINNER

Members of Group V of the State Bankers Association Also Elect Officers.

ALBANY, Feb. 11.—Bankers of Group V of the New York State Bankers Association, which includes the financial institutions in Albany, Troy, Schenectady and the counties of northern New York, held their annual dinner to-night at the Ten Eyck Hotel in this city. The dinner was attended by 25 bankers. It was preceded by a business meeting at which James H. Perkins, president of the National Commercial Bank of New York, was elected chairman for the ensuing year and E. L. Milne, cashier of the Mechanics' Bank of Schenectady, secretary. The executive committee consisted of George H. White, first National, Cooperstown; George A. White, New York State National, Albany; A. Mason, Glens Falls Trust Company; William Mearns, first National, Delmar; and Donald Thompson, United National, Troy.

Among the speakers was E. L. Kent, vice-president of the Bankers Trust Company of New York. Noah E. Barnes, the former president of the Cottonwood Creek Copper Company, who was sentenced to four years in Sing Sing for appropriating $17,000 of the company's money and has been in the Tombs nearly a year pending his appeal, will be released on bail on the order by Supreme Court Justice McCall. He will be released on the condition that he will be under the supervision of a surety company. Justice McCall decided yesterday that he would issue a writ of habeas corpus for Barnes, but did not permit a sufficiently wide cross-examination of the stenographer who took down Barnes' interviews with the District Attorney, which were introduced at the trial.

Report on New England Investment Co.
BOSTON, Feb. 11.—Ex-Gov. Higgins of Rhode Island and Burns H. Hodgeman, clerk of the United States District Court at Concord, N. H., as ancillary receivers in Massachusetts for the New England Investment Company and its subsidiary companies, filed a report in the Circuit Court here to-day. The report represents that the investment company appears to be solvent but that the subsidiary companies are insolvent. Joseph De Champlain, the president of the investment company, is under arrest at Concord, N. H., on a charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Vesburgh Manufacturing Company Bankrupt

The W. C. Vesburgh Manufacturing Company yesterday filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court in Brooklyn. The liabilities are scheduled at $209,825.47 and the assets at $175,702.13. The company for many years has been manufacturing gas fixtures and other brass goods and had an extensive plant at 272 Madison street. Judge Chatfield has appointed Solah B. Strong as referee in the bankruptcy proceedings.

Why Justice Burr Quits Brooklyn Bar Association

Justice Burr of the Supreme Court has tendered his resignation as a member of the Brooklyn Bar Association, explaining that as it was one of the duties of the association to petition the judiciary when it is deemed necessary, it was not fitting that a Judge should at the same time be a member of the association. In the report of the association there is a provision making the various Justices of the courts of record honorary members.

LIABILITY IN CHECK FORGERY.

Bank That Pays Does Not Always Have to Stand the Loss.

The Mercantile National Bank was a suit before Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum yesterday against Joseph Silverman, a broker who makes a business of lending money to United States army officers upon assignments of their salary. The suit was on a promissory note for $3,500, and Silverman put in a counterclaim of $1,126. The testimony showed that in 1907 Silverman got a letter on the stationery of the New Willard Hotel in Washington purporting to be signed by Frederick Marsh, Lieutenant-Colonel, Coast Artillery Corps, stating that he wanted to have three monthly pay vouchers for a total of $1,000 discounted and that he was on duty in the office of the Chief of Artillery at Washington. It also said that Capt. James A. Shipton of the Coast Artillery Corps wanted three vouchers for $195 each discounted and had assigned the vouchers.

Silverman looked up the names in the Army Register and found the officers named on duty where they were supposed to be and later forwarded the pay vouchers to the bank. The bank discounted the vouchers and paid the money to Silverman. The bank then discovered that the vouchers were forged and the money was lost. The bank then sued Silverman for the money and Silverman counterclaimed for the money he had paid to the bank.

Justice Greenbaum found in favor of the bank. He said that the bank was not liable for the loss of the money because it had exercised due diligence in verifying the authenticity of the vouchers. He said that the bank was not a party to the forgery and that it was not responsible for the loss of the money.

Where checks are carelessly issued, affording opportunities on the part of one who has fraudulently acquired them from the maker to consummate the fraud by having them cashed through his bank, the loss should fall upon him through whose initial negligence the impostor came into possession of the instrument.

COPYRIGHT OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Had Been Debarred and Doctors Said He Couldn't Have Aided Rationally.

Policeman Harry Harms of the Fifth Precinct of this city, was convicted of manslaughter by a jury in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, that city, yesterday afternoon in connection with the death of Charles Hopkins on January 11, 1910.

Harms was accused of striking Hopkins with a nightstick and fracturing his skull after a fight in which Harms was badly beaten by Hopkins. Harms was in charge of Policeman Tagliani as a ringleader when the fight took place. Harms in his own defense said that he had no recollection of striking Hopkins after the latter assaulted him with his nightstick and lay on his head on the sidewalk several times.

HIGH AVERAGE FOR CONKLIN

WESTERN BILLIARDIST DEFEATS GERMAN CHAMPION.

Average 10, Which Is Best in International Tournament—Dr. L. L. Mial Wins Afternoon Game From Joseph Mayer. Both Contests Full of Brilliant Play.

Charles F. Conklin and Dr. L. L. Mial won games in the international billiard tournament now in progress at the German Landwehrkanal yesterday. Dr. Mial won in the afternoon, defeating Joseph Mayer of Philadelphia in a remarkably pretty game. Mayer led for nearly ten innings and then Mial made a run of 82 and afterward kept the lead to the finish.

In the evening Charles F. Conklin of Chicago played better billiards than he has ever shown. He was matched against Albert Posenen, the German champion, and a long struggle was expected. Conklin won in his first inning with 20. In his next he made 100 and 110, and then he made 120. In his third inning he made 120. In his fourth inning he made 120. In his fifth inning he made 120.
